

Dimitri is 43 years old and works as a sales assistant in the Benelux division of a multinational company. Originally from Brussels, Dimitri studied languages and found his hometown in Antwerp.

Friendly, always smiling, emotional, honest, trustful and having a big heart for everyone are some of the keywords that define him.

Dimitri is quite active, likes to sport, read, spent time with friends and participate in lots of various activities. At the same time, he can easily enjoy a relaxing time at home. His biggest passion however is DANCING. After competing for 10 years with his former partner, Dimitri won in 2013 at the World Outgames, held in Antwerp, the title of World Champion Latin and Ballroom Samesex Dancing!

After his relationship breakup 5 years ago, Dimitri discovered his fetish side and found a connection with the fetish community. That made him also grow as a person in many ways.

He sees his candidacy as a big exciting challenge. It took him some time to think it over before registering for this election. He wants to do this for the right reasons, not only personally but also for the community. Supposing he would win, as a Mr Leather Belgium, he would like to be the liaison between the established leather community and the new generation of people interested in Leather and other fetishes, helping them to express their fetish desires and support them in every way he can.

The positive reactions he received from everyone (including his loving family) when his candidacy was announced, strengthen his motivation. But more than ever he sticks to his motto: "A man's pride is not that he never falls, but always finds the strength to get up again and go forward"
